The 2022–23 UU Common Read is Mistakes and Miracles: Congregations on the Road to Multiculturalism by Nancy Palmer Jones & Karen Lin

Authors NANCY PALMER JONES and KARIN LIN—a white minister and a lay person of color—explored five UU congregations’ journeys toward Beloved Community. In Mistakes and Miracles: Congregations on the Road to Multiculturalism (Skinner House Books, 2019), they shared the joy, disappointment, and growth these congregations found.

The world has seen much turmoil, pain, and yes, glimmers of hope, in the three years since the publication of Mistakes and Miracles. As we enter a Common Read of this book, we find ourselves receiving its report with a changed spirit, an urgent need, and perhaps new hope for multiculturalism and antiracism work in our congregations and our movement.

Today, UU faith communities are grappling with a charge to dismantle white supremacy in ourselves, our communities, and our world. What lessons and inspiration can we find in Mistakes and Miracles to guide our striving for Beloved Community, today?

The UU Common Read will begin in late 2022 with a cornerstone recorded video conversation with the authors. Materials for in-person and online gatherings will follow; visit uua.org/read.

The UU Common Read builds community in our congregations and our movement by giving diverse people a shared platform for reflection and a shared focus for action. A Common Read can take us on a powerful faith journey as we explore what it means to be human and accountable in a pain-filled world.
Authentic Selves
Celebrating Trans and Nonbinary People and Their Families
Interviews by Peggy Gillespie

Groundbreaking in its depictions of joy and community, Authentic Selves celebrates trans and nonbinary people and their families in stunning photographs and their own words. Foreword by transgender activist Jazz Jennings and her mom and fellow activist, Jeanette Jennings.

Authentic Selves is a sweeping compilation of life stories and portraits of trans and nonbinary people, as well as their partners, parents, children, siblings, and chosen family members.

The compelling stories here provide a glimpse into the real lives, both the challenges and the triumphs, of these remarkable people and their families—people like Senator Sarah McBride, disability justice advocate Parker Glick, drag entertainer TAYLOR ALXNDR, September 11th first responder Joey Morelli, model Lana Patel, youth activist Elliott Bertrand, and so many others—all of whom are working to create a more just, diverse, and compassionate world.

PEGGIE GILLESPIE, M.A., CSW, is the cofounder and director of Family Diversity Projects, a non-profit organization devoted to helping eliminate prejudice, stereotyping, bullying, and harassment of people who are discriminated against due to sexual orientation, gender identity, race, national origin, religion, and disabilities of all kinds. Gillespie is also an actress and performed recently in the award-winning show A 24-Decade History of Popular Music starring Taylor Mac.
In The Rough Side of the Mountain: Black Women’s Ministries in Unitarian Universalism, editor and scholar Qiyamah Rahman collects and explores the unique journeys of Black Unitarian Universalist clergywomen, celebrating their wisdom, resilience, and contributions within and beyond Unitarian Universalism. This singular anthology lifts up the stories and wisdom of Black Unitarian Universalist clergywomen past and present, whose contributions to this faith are just beginning to be recognized.

REV. DR. QIYAMAH RAHMAN is a Unitarian Universalist minister residing in St. Croix, Virgin Islands. She devotes her primary research to the richly diverse narratives of Black Unitarian Universalist women and girls. Her scholarship and writing have appeared in Darkening the Doorways, Voices from the Margins, and BLUU Notes.

Incantations for Rest
Poems, Meditations, and Other Magic
Atena O. Danner

“I don’t really comprehend the age and size of the world, but I know I am a part of it. A single life among billions is as big as any star.”

Incantations for Rest is an invitation to slow down and explore every kind of rest, providing sacred space for those exhausted by the demands of a racist, ableist society. The 2022 volume of the inSpirit Series, this stunning collection of poems, meditations, and magic by poet-activist Atena O. Danner is an examination of spiritual spaces, a love letter to Black well-being, and medicine for BIPOC people.

ATENA O. DANNER is an unapologetically Black, time-traveling poet-activist who dwells in the past to survive the future. She writes toward Beloved Community, Black liberation, and collective imagination. Atena Danner lives near the traditional homelands of the people of the Council of Three Fires and of the Menominee, Miami, and Ho-Chunk nations with her partner, pets, and two free Black children.
When Rev. Nathan Detering shared the story of his brother’s death from a drug overdose with the members of his congregation, many of them shared their own addiction stories with him. Realizing the healing power of sharing stories and questions in community, Rev. Detering conducted interviews to identify and address the common questions that haunt us when we love someone with addiction. Weaving together his own and others’ deeply felt experiences of addiction, Rev. Detering responds to sometimes desperate questions such as: Why can’t I fix it? And while the answers to these questions aren’t easily found, Why Can’t I Fix It? encourages those of us who are struggling with our loved one’s addictions to practice self-care and self-compassion, understand the cultural context for emotional responses and expectations of ourselves and others, and reach out for support.

REV. NATHAN DETERING serves as the senior minister of the Unitarian Universalist Area Church at First Parish in Sherborn, Massachusetts, a position he has held since 2003. He lives in Holliston, Massachusetts, with his family.
In Care for the World: Reflections on Community Ministry, editor Erin J. Walter and contributors offer essays, interviews, and resources to revolutionize our understanding of ministry, lifting up the rich diversity of community ministries—both lay and ordained and led by religious leaders with a broad range of life experiences, identities, and communities of care—within Unitarian Universalism. These reflections show the immense and vital work that Unitarian Universalists are doing in the world and will inspire readers to live a spirited, purposeful life, rooting their daily work in their deepest values and faith.

REV. ERIN J. WALTER serves as the minister and executive director for the Texas Unitarian Universalist Justice Ministry and a coach for Beloved Conversations. Rev. Walter is the singer/songwriter/bassist for the band Parker Woodland and teaches dance as a joy practice. She is affiliated with Wildflower Church in Austin, Texas, and the Church of the Larger Fellowship.

Vanessa Rush Southern, Editor

In reflecting with others, she found joy and deep meaning pressed up against all the hard parts. BLUU Notes
An Anthology of Love, Justice, and Liberation
Takiyah Nur Amin and Mykal Slack, Editors

“May this power of love you find in these pages change your life and your Unitarian Universalism.”

Forged at the intersection of faith and justice, BLUU Notes: An Anthology of Love, Justice, and Liberation is the first publication from Black Lives of Unitarian Universalism (BLUU). Editors Takiyah Nur Amin and Mykal Slack, both on BLUU’s Organizing Collective Board of Directors, have collected original poems, prayers, and short prose pieces by Black Unitarian, Universalist, and Unitarian Universalist writers, musicians, worship leaders, and liturgists. This rich collection can be used for personal study, private meditation, and worship that amplifies a Black Unitarian Universalist perspective and worldview. Selected music and additional resources round out this transformative collection.

TAKIYAH NUR AMIN, PHD, is a dance scholar, educator, and academic success strategist. Her research focuses on twentieth-century American concert dance, African diaspora dance performance and aesthetics, and pedagogical issues in dance studies. Dr. Amin has been a member of the Black Lives of Unitarian Universalism Organizing Collective Board of Directors since 2016.

REV. MYKAL SLACK is a speaker, trainer, worship leader, and congregational life specialist in Unitarian Universalist and other faith settings. In Trusting Change, minister and award-winning author Karen Hering invites readers on the cusp of great change—which is all of us today—to explore the new possibilities emerging in our times.

Sharing wisdom found in the body, in nature, and in metaphors, these reflections include creative and embodied exercises that invite readers into a larger story of change. With suggestions for using the book alone and with others, Hering reminds us that trusting change is made possible by sharing its challenges and its possibilities with others. This book is a conversation with the reader meant to also stir conversations between readers as we learn to live into and through our transformative times together.

KAREN HERING is an ordained minister in St. Paul, Minnesota, and serves as a threshold guide to people and communities on the cusp of change. She is the author of Writing to Wake the Soul, winner of a silver Nautilus award and named one of the best spiritual books of the year by Spirituality & Practice.
Every story begins with a word. As a young woman, Elizabeth Jarrett Andrew carried a word within her so potent that it spread through her every artery and vein. She carried it in secret until she was shown a different way and the word inside her turned restless and eager.

A stunning memoir of coming of age and coming out, Swinging on the Garden Gate: A Memoir of Bisexuality and Spirit describes a period of time in this award-winning author and teacher’s life when she came to know bisexuality as an embodied manifestation of divinity. Andrew not only reconciles her United Methodist faith with her sexuality but realizes that her body is holy, her sexuality is holy, and the word she carried within her has always been holy.

ELIZABETH JARRETT ANDREW teaches creative writing at Wisdom Center for Spirituality in St. Paul, Minnesota. She is the author of the novel Hannah, Delivered; the essay collection On the Threshold: Home, Hardwood, and Holiness; and two books for writers: Writing the Sacred Journey: The Art and Practice of Spiritual Memoir and Living Revision: A Writer’s Craft as Spiritual Practice—a 2018 Nautilus Award winner.
Beyond Welcome
Building Communities of Love
Linnea Nelson, Editor

How do we go beyond welcome to build compassionate, authentic, and equitable communities? In Beyond Welcome, editor Linnea Nelson and contributors dream of a future Unitarian Universalism that upholds abundant love and universal justice within every community. Through personal and collective reflections, these heartfelt essays tell stories of how it feels to be in Beloved Community while prompting readers to imagine what it will take to get us there.

The lived experiences of these hopeful Unitarian Universalists illuminate the relevancy of liberation in each and every one of our communities. Examining both the joys of community and the responsibilities we have to one another, Beyond Welcome provides clarity about current structures and behaviors that create barriers to equity in our faith communities as a passageway to building foundational structures of love and liberation.

LINNEA NELSON is a certified spiritual director companioning adults, youth, and children on their life journeys. She served as president of the Liberal Religious Educators Association (LREDA) and is the executive director of UU Wellspring, a year-long spiritual deepening program for Unitarian Universalists. The Darkness Divine
A Loving Challenge to My Faith
Kristen L. Harper

In The Darkness Divine, minister and poet Kristen L. Harper confronts the language, imagery, and cultural touchstones that demean and dehumanize Black people but can easily escape notice. More importantly, Rev. REV. DR. KRISTEN L. HARPER is minister of the Unitarian Church of Barnstable, Massachusetts, where she has served for 18 years. She received her D.Min from Meadville Lombard Theological School in 1999, and was only the second Black woman to be called to a Unitarian Universalist Congregation as sole minister.

The Through Line
200 Years of the Berry Street Essay
Kate R. Walker, Editor

For more than two hundred years, Unitarian and then UU ministers have gathered to hear one of their own deliver an essay of reflection and critique on their profession. The Berry Street lecture, started in 1820 by Rev. William Ellery Channing, is believed to be the longest running essay series of its kind in the United States. In this powerful collection, editor Kate R. Walker and contributors look back over the essays on record and offer analysis on what was said and the historical context surrounding them; selected essays have also been included in this volume.

REV. DR. KATE R. WALKER serves as the minister at Mount Vernon Unitarian Church in Alexandria, Virginia, and as Scribe of the Ministerial Conference at Berry Street.
Faith on Trial
Religion and the Law in the United States
Mark J. T. Caggiano

In Faith on Trial, legal scholar and UU minister Mark J. T. Caggiano argues that concerns about separation of church and state often serve to silence the viewpoints of religious progressives, many of whom exit the conversation in the hope of protecting important social issues from religious infighting. Faith on Trial is an invitation to religious progressives and moderates to help put social progress and inclusion at the center of the national conversation about religion and the law.

MARK J. T. CAGGIANO currently serves as minister at First Church in Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts. He teaches First Amendment law concerning matters of religious rights and the separation of church and state at Boston College Law School.

We Need to Build
Field Notes for a Diverse Democracy
Eboo Patel

It is harder to organize a fair trial than it is to fire up a crowd, more challenging to build a good school than it is to tell others they are doing education all wrong. But every decent society requires fair trials and good schools, and that’s just the beginning of the list of institutions and structures that need to be efficiently created and effectively run in large-scale diverse democracy.

We Need to Build is a call to create those institutions and a guide for how to run them well.

EBOO PATEL, PHD, is founder and Executive Director of the Interfaith Youth Core, an international nonprofit building the interfaith youth movement.

Dirt Road Revival
How To Rebuild Rural Politics and Why Our Future Depends on It
Chloe Maxmin and Canyon Woodward

Maine State Senator Chloe Maxmin and campaign manager Canyon Woodward saw how the Democratic Party has focused for too long on the interests of elite leaders and big donors, forcing the party to abandon the concerns of rural America—jeopardizing climate justice, racial equity, economic justice, and more. Dirt Road Revival looks at how we got here and lays out a roadmap for progressive campaigns in rural America to build an inclusive, robust, grassroots politics that fights for equity and justice across our country.

CHLOE MAXMIN is the youngest woman ever to serve in the Maine State Senate at 29 years old.

CANYON WOODWARD was the campaign manager for Chloe Maxmin’s successful 2018 and 2020 campaigns.

Easy Beauty
A Memoir
Chloé Cooper Jones

“I am in a bar in Brooklyn, listening to two men, my friends, discuss whether my life is worth living.”

So begins Chloé Cooper Jones's bold, revealing account of moving through the world in a body that looks different than most. Easy Beauty is a groundbreaking memoir about disability, motherhood, and the search of a new way of seeing and being seen. With its emotional depth; its prodigious, spiky intelligence; and its passion and humor, this book is the rare memoir that has the power to make you see the world, and your place in it, with new eyes.

CHLOÉ COOPER JONES is a philosophy professor and freelance journalist who was a finalist for a 2020 Pulitzer Prize in Feature Writing.

The Birdcatcher
Gayl Jones

Gayl Jones has been described as one of the great literary writers of the 20th century. In the wake of her long-awaited fifth novel, Palmares, The Birdcatcher is another singular achievement.

Set primarily on the island of Ibiza, the story is narrated by the writer Amanda Wordlaw, whose closest friend, a gifted sculptor named Catherine Shuger, is repeatedly institutionalized for trying to kill a husband who never leaves her. The three form a quirky triangle on the white-washed island.

A study in Black women’s creative expression and the intensity of their relationships, this work from Jones shows off her range and insight into the vicissitudes of all human nature.

Reclaiming Two-Spirits
Sexuality, Spiritual Renewal, and Sovereignty in Native America
Gregory D. Smithers

After European colonizers invaded Indian Country, centuries of violence and systematic persecution followed, imperiling the existence of people who today call themselves Two-Spirits, an umbrella term denoting feminine and masculine qualities in one person.

Reclaiming Two-Spirits decolonizes the history of gender and sexuality in Native North America. It honors the generations of Indigenous people who had the foresight to take essential aspects of their cultural life and spiritual beliefs underground in order to save them.

GREGORY D. SMITHERS is professor of American history and Eminent Scholar at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Asian American Histories of the United States
Catherine Ceniza Choy

Original and expansive, Asian American Histories of the United States is a nearly 200-year history of Asian migration, labor, and community formation in the US. Reckoning with the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic and the surge in anti-Asian hate and violence, award-winning historian Catherine Ceniza Choy presents an urgent social history of immigrants, refugees, US-born Asian Americans, multiracial Americans, and workers from industries spanning agriculture to healthcare.

CATHERINE CENIZA CHOY is professor of ethnic studies at the University of California, Berkeley. She is the author of the books Empire of Care and Global Families and the co-editor of the anthology Gendering the Trans-Pacific World.

Born on the Water
The 1619 Project
Nikole Hannah-Jones, Renée Watson, and Nikkolas Smith, Illustrator

A young student receives a family tree assignment in school, but she can only trace back three generations. Grandma gathers the whole family, and the student learns that 400 years ago, in 1619, their ancestors were stolen and brought to America by white slave traders. But before that, they had a home, a land, a language. She learns how the people said to be born on the water survived.

Born on the Water provides a pathway for readers of all ages to reflect on the origins of American identity.

NIKOLE HANNAH-JONES is a Pulitzer Prize–winning reporter covering racial injustice for The New York Times Magazine and creator of the landmark 1619 Project.

RENÉE WATSON is a New York Times bestselling author of Piecing Me Together.
